Why: Your Metal nature is more subtle and receptive. Surrounding yourself with Earth energy provides the nourishment and confidence to express your true self.

Home-Chart Match

The map below, overlaid on your birth chart and your floor plan. Your score reflects how well your home's layout aligns with this year's energies.

The year's nine stars mapped onto your home (facing E) · sitting W.

The 五黄廉贞 (五黄) misfortune star sits in the south sector this year — keep it still, avoid earth-moving and loud noise, and place metal there to settle it. The 二黑巨门 (二黑) illness star sits in the northwest sector — keep it uncluttered and quiet; white or metal accents soften it. The 八白左辅 (八白) prosperity star sits in the east sector — keep it bright, clean and active to support wealth. The 四绿文曲 (四绿) study star sits in the northeast sector — an ideal spot for a desk, books or study. You marked your home as sitting west and facing east. Your front door (facing east) holds the 八白左辅 (very auspicious) — a good position; keep the entrance bright and welcoming. You asked us to focus on: Bedroom. Check which sector each room falls in on the overlay, then apply that sector's guidance below.

Your floor plan cross-referenced against your 用神 (Earth) and 忌神 (Fire). Match score 7.8/10 (Average) — A few sectors align with your Earth; a couple need softening.. 宜 = activate (supports your chart); 忌 = soften (feeds the excess); 平 = neutral.

| Direction         | Star | Element | Sector fit (用神) | What to do                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------|------|---------|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| NW (top-left)     | 二黑巨门 | Earth   | 宜               | Activate this sector — its Earth energy supports your Earth. Keep this area quiet and uncluttered — avoid renovations or loud activity here; add white/metal accents to soften it.                                          |
| N (top)           | 六白武曲 | Metal   | 平               | Neutral — follow the annual guidance: Good for career and authority — keep orderly; a metal or crystal object supports discipline and windfalls.                                                                            |
| NE (top-right)    | 四绿文曲 | Wood    | 宜               | Activate this sector — its Wood energy supports your Earth. Ideal for study and focus — place your desk or books here; green plants support learning.                                                                       |
| W (left)          | 三碧禄存 | Wood    | 宜               | Activate this sector — its Wood energy supports your Earth. Minimise arguments — keep this area calm; a warm red accent helps diffuse friction.                                                                             |
| E (right)         | 八白左辅 | Earth   | 宜               | Activate this sector — its Earth energy supports your Earth. The prosperity position — keep it bright, clean and active; an earth-tone or metal accent, or a healthy plant, supports wealth.                                |
| SW (bottom-left)  | 七赤破军 | Metal   | 平               | Neutral — follow the annual guidance: Guard against loss and disputes — avoid red and sharp metal; a dark/blue (water) accent helps drain friction.                                                                         |
| S (bottom)        | 五黄廉贞 | Earth   | 宜               | Activate this sector — its Earth energy supports your Earth. Most sensitive area this year — keep it still and quiet, avoid earth-moving, drilling or loud noise; place metal objects (a small bell or coins) to settle it. |
| SE (bottom-right) | 九紫右弼 | Fire    | 忌               | Soften this sector — its Fire energy feeds your Fire. a single black or dark-blue item in the north corner (used lightly — avoid harsh clash)                                                                               |

Space Energy Score

7.5/10 (Average) — A balanced space with a few focal points worth tuning.

| Dimension               | Score | Why                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Home-Chart Alignment    | 6/10  | Your beneficial element is Earth (favourable direction southwest). Your home faces east — a partial match; bring yellow into the southwest side.                  |
| Annual Afflictions      | 8/10  | In 2026 your facing direction (east) holds the 八白左辅 (very auspicious) — no major affliction there; focus on the rest of the layout.                               |
| Auspicious-Position Use | 9/10  | In 2026 the 八白 prosperity star sits in the east — keep that area bright, clean and active to support wealth.                                                      |
| Element Balance         | 7/10  | your Day Master is gentle. Supporting Earth (and Metal) while easing Fire keeps your space in tune — use the action list below for colours, objects and crystals. |
